

If you have been foolish, exalting yourself, or if you have been devising evil, put your hand on your mouth. For pressing milk produces curds, pressing the nose produces blood, and pressing anger produces strife.

A close-up photograph of a grass seed head, likely from a wildflower, is positioned on the right side of the frame. The seed head is dark and textured, with many small, pointed seeds. The background is a soft, out-of-focus sunset or sunrise, with warm golden and orange hues. The overall mood is peaceful and contemplative.
